Collaborative Tools for Mobile Learning

Mobile learners can now experience real time interaction with their peers via mobiShout™, the new dynamic collaboration system from LearnCast®. Users can share and discuss ideas, ask questions, and provide feedback within mobile courses, tests, and polls.

mobiShout™ bridges the gap between individual and group learning by providing a secure and vibrant medium for stimulating group discussion between learners. In addition to real time communication, community members are instantly notified of responses to conversations they have joined.

By sharing ideas and participating in group debate, professionals and students alike can take their learning to the next level.
